

Quite a Day

It's been quite a day. Ended up paying for two tubes and labor for some idiot over-inflating the tires on the Rapido. The bad bike shop is All Wheels in Rehoboth Beach. We found out last weekend that it was a bad shop, but the bike was already in there. The good shop around here is Bethany Cycles in Rehoboth Beach and Bethany Beach. The laundry guy went home early, so we can't pick up our finished laundry, including sheets and towels that we need for tonight. The XTerra is overheating and it's 95 degrees out. I'm going for a bike ride.
